

Linux uses a hierarchical file system.

The top level directory is called the root directory and is represented by:

/

All files and directories exist somewhere underneath /.

A simplified Linux file system looks like this

/

Bin

Boot

Dev

Etc

Home

User1

User2

Lib

Media

Mnt

Opt

Proc

Root

Run

Sbin

Tmp

Usr

var